

Guidelines to bibliographic references

Because all references will be linked electronically to the papers they cite, proper formatting of the references is crucial. Completeness of references is the responsibility of the authors. Please pay particular attention to spelling, capitalization and punctuation.

References to:

- unpublished or submitted work
- unpublished conference presentations
- personal communications
- patent applications and patents pending
- computer software, databases
- websites

should be referred to as such only in the body of the text. These should be kept to the minimum.

The examples are as follows:

- (J. Smith, unpublished data)
- (J. Smith and P. Brown, submitted for publication)
- (J. Smith, personal communication)
- (J. Smith and P. Brown, presented at the 4th Symposium on Food Microbiology, Overton, IL, 13 - 15 June 1989)
- (J. C. Odell, April 1970, Process for batch culturing, U.S. patent 484,363,770)
- (J. Smith, 20 June 1999, Australian Patent Office)
- ... from the GenBank database (<http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/Genbank/index.html>)
- ... using ABC software (version 2.2; Department of Microbiology, State University, <http://www.stu.micro>)

References to:

- published manuscripts
- accepted ('in press') manuscripts
- books
- book chapters
- theses
- published conference materials

should be included in the reference list. References to published meeting abstracts or conference proceedings should be kept to the minimum.

For all references, list the first six authors; add "et al." if there are additional authors. Please do not list more than six authors. Standard abbreviations of journal names according to Thomson Scientific should be used.

References should be listed and numbered in the order that they appear in the text. In the text, citations should be indicated by the reference number in brackets. Multiple citations within a single set of brackets should be separated by commas. Where there are more than three sequential citations, they should be given as a range. Example: "...has been shown previously [1,4-6,22]." References in figure captions and tables should be listed as last.

Before submitting your article, please make sure you have carefully checked the manuscript for any relevant references you may have missed.

Please use the following style for the reference list:
